FRANKFORT, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY MARCH 30, 1907

No. 28

[For the Roundabout.] ONE SUNNY DAY.

March seemed to have grown bold in bringing with her every possibility of spring. In her hands were wood violet. In her hair the blossom of dogwood, and her garments of green draperies were cool and refreshing as if new, the wearer, had never known bleak winds, and howling methods of despair.

We talked of the change in weather. Our "farmer" comparing the present with the past, and wishing for rain. The "house mother" desired nothing so much as house-cleaning, getting ready for taking down stoves, taking up carpets, and getting rid of dust and ashes generally.

The children, God bless them, had so much of Christian grace that no complaint was heard. They enjoyed the out of doors sunshine and the merry prattle of voices as play came in through the open window as sweet as songs from the dressed up birds who thought the day was Easter, and they must dedicate as well as decorate.

The "wise man" grew silent and even forgot to smile. We asked ourselves the question as to the why and wherefore, but echo answered never a word. Some how "the woman" was holding her own with remarkable skill and Christian like endeavor. There must be a reason for it and would you believe it that a bird in the tree top heard the story, told it to "Burr Rabbit" who was hunting a nest for Easter eggs, and who repeated it to me. "But you know Rachel, that I was not in earnest when we visited the tale of Play. I love you dear! I'm not bound by any creed or doctrine. Where thou goest I will go, where thou livest I will live, thy people shall be my people, thy God my God."

And would you have believed it! The woman smiled, turned herself about and declared that men were so considerate she for one must accept the first chance, and take in charge this wise man whom she felt assured could never on earth take care of himself!

It was a case of charity, and though the necessity was great she felt that love would work a way and the sunshine come into their lives.

To every one of us who had looked on in the shadows there resulted a sure enough thanksgiving, and we resolved (when the time came) to surprise these two friends with the sweetest gift of remembrance in the power of wealth or affection. The "wise man" turned over new leaves.

He laughed and whistled at the plow. Arm and arm went the two lovers across the field when she had taken the noon day lunch for him. They sat once more on enchanted ground. No fairy land of joy could surpass their dreams of happiness. While we looked on in glad anticipation of the dreams to be. The earth was no longer a narrow round of every day toll.

The quality of mercy was not strained. Forgiveness proved a salve of wondrous power, and love was the balm in Gilead.

I planted my garden seed with new resolve. The flowers in the pit had greater attractiveness. The gathering in of eggs, the care of the poultry, may even the smallest event in the days' history was registered in sunshine. Life was really an open book in which one could find comfort and rest. Why had none of us seen what fate had always intended, the merging of these two lives made for each other, why had none of us been peace-makers between them? But there was no longer need for tears. All the rest of days the sun light of affection would shine for these as well as for us and we could well exclaim:

In to each life a day of rain,
In to each heart the sunshine came.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. Morton Wood, son of Mr. Jos. B. Wood, was driving along the Georgetown pike, near the residence of Mr. W. J. Lewis, on Saturday, when the clip, holding the shaft to the axle, broke letting the shafts fall on the legs of the young mare he was driving. The frightened animal dashed down the pike and the buggy was dragged wabbling along behind it. Mr. Wood was thrown over the back of the buggy, landing on the back of his head. The frightened horse ran on, and in a short time ran against a telephone pole, stripping itself loose from the buggy.

Mr. Wood was bruised on his head and rendered unconscious for about half an hour, his left hip and right arm, also, were bruised, but, luckily no bones were broken.

When we saw him at Providence Church, Sunday afternoon, he was all right except feeling sore from his fall.

It was a narrow escape, for had he remained in the buggy fifteen feet further, he would have been instantly killed when the horse ran against the telephone pole. The buggy was smashed to pieces. The runaway mare was caught by friends a short while afterwards.

Dr. G. W. Monfort, who lives at Woodlake, was soon on the ground and made an examination showing that Mr. Wood was not seriously hurt.

The News—No pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is— and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by all dealers.

BUGGY HORSE DIED FROM BEING OVERDRIVEN.

On Sunday afternoon about 5:30, a young man drove a buggy and horse on to the St. Clair street bridge, and when about half way across, the animal fell in the shafts. It was unhitched from the buggy, assisted to its feet again and walked out Bridge street in front of Mr. E. M. Williams' coal office, where it fell again and died.

It is said the animal had been overdriven, on that warm afternoon, given too much water and the result followed. Loss $125.

DWAIN'S Little Early Risers The famous little pills.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S FIRE.

Fine Horse and Buggy Destroyed.

At 10:40 o'clock, on Sunday night, an alarm from boxes 15 and 16 called the department to the stable used by Mr. George Akar, on the corner of the alley on Capital Avenue, between Fourth Avenue and Campbell streets.

When the department arrived the stable was a mass of flames and was falling in.

One or two coal houses and the kitchen of Mr. Grant L. Roberts, all close by, were slightly damaged by the blaze.

In the stable was a fine buggy horse, three vehicles, harness and provender (all the property of Mr. Geo. Baker, the proprietor of the Frankfort Distillery), which were destroyed. The loss summed up between $2,000 and $2,500.

FOUND AT LAST.

J. A. Harmon, of Sizemore, West Va., says: "At last I have found the perfect pill that never disappoints me; and for the benefit of others afflicted with torpid liver and chronic constipation, will say: take Dr. King's New Life Pills." Guaranteed satisfactory. 25 cents at all Druggists.

WRECK OF C. & O. SATURDAY MORNING.

A freight train of the C. & O. Railway had four cars to jump the track, near the old Dudley bridge, two miles east of this city, (near the men's dormitory of the College of Normal School), on Saturday morning, early in the day.

The wrecking train was summoned and the wreck was removed in some three or four hours.

All morning trains from the east were delayed several hours in reaching this city.

REMAINS BROUGHT HOME FOR INTERMENT.

The remains of Mrs. Jane Hollywood Butler, relict of the late Mr. Edward Butler (the finest plasterer that ever lived in this city), were brought here from Norwood, Ohio, on Monday, and laid away by the side of her husband in the Catholic cemetery. Mr. Butler had been dead several years.

This brings to mind the fact that Mr. Butler's death was caused by the fall of a brick wall on the premises now occupied by Mrs. L. C. Kendall, on Main street.

LAWRENCEBURG STILL "WET."

After a hot fight, on Monday last, Lawrenceburg voted to remain "wet." The vote stood wet 231, dry 154, majority for wet 77 votes. It is charged that men were bought like cattle. The ladies and children plead with the men to vote against whisky.

"FARMER'S"

NARROW ESCAPE.
Laudanum Given by Mistake for Other Medicine.
On Monday last, Mrs. A. W. Nazor, whose little daughter was ill with bowel trouble, gave her child (as she supposed) the medicine prescribed by her physician, but was horrified, a short time afterwards, to discover that she had given the little one a tea spoonful of laudanum, the bottle having been placed where she had put the other medicine by mistake.
Dr. J. S. Goodrich was summoned as soon as the trouble was discovered, and worked with the child for several hours, finally succeeding in producing the desired reaction, thus saving the life of the little one.
Mrs. Nazor (who is an internal revenue storekeeper) lives on the Louisville pike, some three miles from the city. But for the fact that they have telephone connection with the city, and the physician was quickly summoned, there is no doubt that the family would now be mourning the death of this bright, pretty and attractive little darling.
We congratulate them upon their escape from this terrible sorrow.

Never can tell when you'll mash a finger or suffer a cut, bruise, burn or scald. Be prepared. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil instantly relieves the pain—quickly cures the wound.

INTERESTING AND INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS.
Dr. A. T. McCormack, Secretary of the State Board of Health, delivered a very interesting, instructive and exhaustive address upon the various questions of sanitation at the First Baptist Church, in this city, on Thursday night last.
The address was pungent, witty and sarcastic, and was one that every person interested in the welfare of the community should have heard and heeded.
The address was delivered under the auspices of the Franklin County Medical Association.

We regret that there was not a larger attendance, not only of business and professional men but of the house and homeseekers of the city.
The learned physician gave some startling and alarming facts with regard to the way many of the most deadly diseases are spread broadcast over the State.
We certainly wish that the address could be repeated, with sufficient advertising to bring out an audience commensurate with the importance of the theme treated.

GEORGE A. LEWIS, Prop'r and Pub.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 30, 1907.

SAD DEATH OF FINE YOUNG MAN.

We were saddened, on Wednesday, when the news came that genial, sunny tempered and jolly John M. Rodman had succumbed to an attack of cerebral trouble at an infirmary in Louisville.

Mr. Rodman was the fourth son of Col. Joseph L. and Mrs. Mattie V. Rodman, and was born and reared in this city. He was universally beloved for his manly and jovial disposition.

He had served one term as Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture under Commissioner Nicholas McDowell, and soon after had moved to Louisville, where he engaged in the insurance business.

About ten years ago he was married to Miss Evelyn Brown, daughter of Gov. John Brown, who, with one daughter, survive.

The remains were brought to this city, on Wednesday morning, where the funeral services were conducted at the Cemetery Chapel, by Rev. Wm. Crowe, after which the remains were laid away in the family lot.

In addition to his wife and daughter, Mr. Rodman leaves his father and mother, four brothers and a large circle of friends to mourn his untimely end.

Universal sympathy is extended to the bereft.

CLEAN UP THE CITY.

The recent warm spell, has demonstrated the absolute necessity for a thorough cleaning of the city.

Any one who has passed along the street anywhere near the corner of St. Clair and Main streets, for the last ten days, can testify that the horrible stench and odors that salute their nostrils clearly show the necessity for some rapid work in the line of "getting busy" upon the part of the health officer.

We doubt not there are numerous points where the same state of affairs exists. We simply cite this as one point where if something is not done to abate the nuisance, there is every likelihood that pestilence will soon be coming.

Let the proper authorities proceed at once to clean up all parts of the city before these evils become beyond control.

FRANKLIN INSTITUTE PROGRAM MADE UP.

The State Agricultural Department has been prepared for the Franklin County Farmers' Institute which is to be held at the Forks of Elkhorn, Wednesday and Thursday, of next week, April 3 and 4. Great interest has been aroused, and it is expected that big crowds will be on hand daily. Some of the speakers on the Institute repertoire have been assigned to the local Institute, as will be seen by a glance at the program.

What the farmers are much interested in, and what it is believed will prove a very attractive feature of the Institute will be the showing of corn and tobacco for cash prizes which have been offered by Commissioner Vreeland. The full program for the Institute is as follows:

CORKERS AND TWISTERS.

By Mrs. O'Houlihan.

It is a serious question as to whether the animosities engendered by class prejudice towards some of those connected with the glass factory, and seemingly fostered by the local luminaries of the city and county, may not, in the end, have the effect of driving from Frankfort the very industries towards whose establishment so much money, time and labor have been given. There connected with the glass factory and other factories that may be established should be treated exactly as other citizens, with the same rights, privileges and courtesies as other citizens, and not as objects towards which the special prejudices of the labor have been given. Those should be allowed display.

An important suit, it is said, will be filed in the Franklin Circuit Court against the city of Frankfort by William Sikes, in which damages in the sum of $5,000 are claimed.

It is alleged in the petition that the said Bill Sikes was passing down St. Clair street, hereabout, when one of his feet laid itself upon a lighted cigarette, that had been carelessly thrown upon the pavement, thereby causing him to leap high in the air and come violently down upon the curbstone, thereby causing him to break a suspender button and to bruise his right toe, producing great disturbance and anxiety of mind, and inflicting much bodily harm. The skin of the toe was so seriously bruised that he has done little work since and his physicians say there is a possibility of blood poisoning, locomotor ataxia, cerebral spinal meningitis, Bright's disease, or other dangerous complications. He further says his suspender button was of peculiar make, and can not be satisfactorily replaced. Ketchum & Pullen are the lawyers in the case.

Much credit is due to the manager of the Frankfort street car line, Col. J. D. Sallee, for the establishment, and almost uniform observance, of a time-table schedule for the running of cars, not only a great convenience to the traveling public, but is profitable to the company. Under the former management cars were likely to be found anywhere, or nowhere, at any time. If a citizen knows when a car will pass a given point, with reasonable certainty, he will wait for it. But if its appearance is a matter of guesswork, he will not wait a minute, and the fare is lost. So he will arrange to take the car for a given point if he knows the minute it will "go by" for that point.

The ground hog came trotting to the front last week, and the weather prophets and the almanacs had to hunt their holes.

Mercury is said to freeze solid in the thermometer at a temperature below zero of 82 degrees Fahrenheit. In the arctic regions spirit thermometer alone can be used.

Daniel Boone was a great philosopher, as well as a cunning strategist. When captured by the Indians he accepted the situation with apparent cheerfulness, and made himself useful to his captors. Although able to knock the center spot out of a target with his rifle, he would generally miss far enough to let some of the best Indian shots beat him. This tickled their vanity, and they gave him more privileges; and he made good use of these privileges by one day striking out for his old Kentucky home before they had time to miss him. He got there all right, for he could make a bee line through the woods on the darkest night.

The season of fish stories, with all their picturesque embellishment, is about to begin. Get in line anglers, and listen for a jo-darter. Brother Sand True will please lead off. Bros. Utterback, Gihbons, Eggleston, Innes and Witzel will please oil their tongue machinery.

Mr. Wm. Dadd, of Lynn, Mass., who has been with the Hoge-Montgomery Shoe Co., since the first of the year, was forced by ill-health to resign his position, and left for home on Monday.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Built Up My

Shattered Nerves and Gave Me an Appetite.

The millions of people, who today suffer from nervousness or heart weakness, a large percentage trace the cause directly to diphtheria. It is a germ disease, and makes attack upon the nerves, putting an end upon them at the time their vitality is at its lowest ebb. If LaGrippe has a shattered nervous system, with its lack of energy, insomnia, frequent headaches and morbid tendencies, you should strengthen the weakened nerves with Dr. Miles' Nervine. It will undo all that grip has done, bring back appetite, rest and restore the nerves to their normal activity. "I want to write this testimonial for the benefit of those who have suffered from that dreaded disease—LaGrippe. I suffered several weeks with it, and nothing tried seemed to benefit me in any way, shape or form (I suffered almost constantly) and finally my daughter recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine to me and I can truthfully say from the first day I felt better than in weeks. It gave me relief, built up my shattered nerves and gave me a splendid appetite. I cannot speak too highly of it and want to say, each and every one who has suffered from LaGrippe will find instant relief by getting a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine. Insist on having it and take no other. It is simply splendid. Hoping this will benefit some poor sufferer I remain, —MRS. GEORGE B. HALL, Jackson, Tenn. RUMORED EXTENSION OF L. & N. R. R.

There are rumors afloat that the L. & N. R. R. Co., in order to head off the Traction Co., is contemplating the building of a branch road from this city to Versailles, by way of the Glenn's Creek valley.

It is said the branch will leave the main line at the switch above Cochran's distillery, run around through the Walnut bottom, striking the river, thence up the valley of Glenn's Creek to Versailles, connecting at that place with the Louisville and Atlantic Railroad, making direct connection with the mountains at Irvine and Beattyville, and open the coal mines of that region to direct transportation to this region.

It is earnestly to be hoped that this will not end in windy talk, as it has so many times in the past. Several routes were surveyed when the project to build the F. & C. Railway was first begun and the surveyors' notes can easily be obtained.

COMMUNICATION.

The correspondent, of Benson, that wrote for the Roundabout, last week, didn't tell the truth all the way through, and used my name at the bottom. I thank them, who ever they are, not to do so any more. If so I will call on the Editor to tell me who they are.

MATTIE L. MOORE.

A WIFE TO HER HUSBAND IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Air—"Father, Come Home."

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now.

From the city and State House so warm;

'Tis lonely without you, why do you not come

And see to the things on the farm You told me, when you were elected last year,

If I would but once let you go, You'd surely return before April was past.

And I really believed 't would be so. Come home! come home! come home!

Dear husband, kind husband, come home.

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now.

Come home e'er the spring time is through;

The old brindle cow has got a white calf.

And the young lambs are bleating for you;

The hen has been sitting a fortnight or more.

They soon will be off their broods; The old speckled turkey has stolen her nest.

Away in the brakes or the woods.

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now.

The garden needs spading for peas; The boys should be picking up stones in the lot.

And you should be trimming the trees.

When will you get through with "bills" and "resolves,"

Stop talking of license and rum.

Of railroads and tunnels and such other things.

And tend to your business at home.

Husband, dear husband, don't write to me more

Of the theatre, lobby and club;

Nor diners you've eaten at the "Capital" there;

But hurry away from the Hub. Yes, hurry back home, your Betsy is sad.

Her heart is so honest and true, All winter she's slept in the bed-room alone.

And say, dearest husband, have you?

Husband, dear husband, come home to me now.

Come home while the birds sing in May,

And let not the smile in the gallery there

Distract you or tempt you to stray. The voice of your Betsy is calling you now.

Come home, for you know what it means;

I'm getting quite nervous about you, come home.

And we will have cowslips for greens!

Signed: BETSY JANE.

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merit, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such character that he is not afraid to subject them to the closest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, indigestion or biliousness, and all the diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or letter to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral acids or other poisonous or injurious agents, and that they are made from native medicinal herbs and plants, and that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in the Favorite Prescription for weak nerves, over-worked, run-down, nervous and debilitated constitutions, for weeks and years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their sagons. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, was known to the Indians as "Saw-Wood." Our knowledge of the uses of a few of our most valuable native medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy for restoring all the worn-out functions, correcting displacements, as prolapse, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

CAPTURED BIG OPOSSUM.

In the presence of about two hundred people, early yesterday morning, an opossum was captured by an employee of the Frankfort Elevator Coal Co. It seems that his oppossumish friend found its way into the handsome lawn of Gen. D. W. Lindsey, and, daylight having overtaken him, he took refuge in the top of one of the willow trees lining the bank of the river, where the keen eyes of an old-time colored man discovered him.

The tree was shaken and the opossum dropped to the ground and made a dash for the river and dived under the surface of the water, but unluckily for him came up close to the yacht-house of Mr. Henry Lindsey, where the man spoken of above was watching for him, and reached down into the water and caught Mr. Oppossum by the tail. It was a very large specimen and is supposed to have come from the adjacent hills in search of food in the shape of chickens.

WHAT THEY SAY.

My Dear Sir and Friend—Won't you please send me my paper—"The Roundabout"—here, as I can't keep in touch with the world without it.

I know you will be glad to know that I am doing well, as Auditor of The Rome Ry. & Light Co., a company managed by a former Frankfort boy—Sam Stone Bush—who is the Vice-President and General Manager. Mr. Bush also has a plant at Jackson, Tenn., and Scranton, Mississippi, and is one of the ablest executives in the country. He is simply a wonder, and I expect to see him the president of one of the biggest railroads in the U. S. before he dies.

Well! I see old Frankfort is rubbing her eyes and waking up, and I expect to see her grow some before the close of the century. There is no place like Frankfort and they don't make the same kind of people elsewhere—the best on earth.

Yours truly,

S. C. BULL.

It Can Be Done, So Scores of Frankfort Citizens Say.

To cure an aching back, The pains of rheumatism, The tired-out feelings, You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidney. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of 340 Blanton street, Frankfort, Ky., says: "My son was greatly benefited by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. Some time ago, he had a bad spell of rheumatism, and the attack was so severe that he was hardly able to move about. From that time on his kidneys seemed to be badly affected for he complained a great deal of a steady dull aching across the back and sharp pains in his kidneys if he stooped or lifted anything. A weakness of the kidney secretions was very annoying, especially at night as it disturbed his rest. While looking over the papers one evening, I came across an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills, the claims made for this remedy so impressed me that I decided to have my son give it a trial. A box was procured and Dr. Gayle's drug store, at my request, he began taking them, and to my great surprise, as well as his own, he noticed almost immediate relief. In a short time the backache had entirely left him, the difficulty with the secretions had been corrected, and he felt as well as ever again."

SAD NEWS.

The many friends of Bonnie Miss Madge Burnam, daughter of Judge A. R. Burnam, of Richmond, are very much concerned as to the outcome of an operation for appendicitis, which she has been taken to Baltimore, Md., to undergo.

The News—No pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure—has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poisons enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison-marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must be law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. Sold by all dealers.

COMMUNICATED.

Editor Roundabout:

Dear Sir--I am a quiet citizen and don't usually like to meddle in public affairs, but I want to tell you how much we country people endorse your article of last week about the condition of the roads of Franklin county. You hit the nail on the head, and we all say come again and often. Now whose fault is this condition due? It does look like the taxpayers of Franklin county pay enough every year to have something to show for their money. Now I like County Judge Jim Polsgrove as well as anybody, but it looks to a man up a tree that if he was just a little busier attending to the condition of our roads, he would be thought a much better county judge. Over in Fayette county they say the county judge is the whole works, but you will notice that Fayette has the best roads in the country. In Woodford it's the same way about the roads. I know it to be a fact that Franklin county's fiscal court leaves the direction of the county work to Judge Polsgrove. If he orders a thing done it is done and the fiscal court approves it.

Now I hear it noised about that Judge Polsgrove is going to be a candidate for another office before many moons wax and wane, and of course he will want us country fellows with him, and I want to offer the suggestion that he will be lots more popular, out in this section, if he will show how well he can administer his present office, by giving us as good roads as the county judges of some surrounding counties do. I can't find anyone who knows a single valid reason why we shouldn't have fine turnpikes in consideration of the amount of taxes we pay. What's he coming of the money? It certainly isn't being spent for good roads.

Sincerely yours,

SUBSCRIBER.

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt, that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small trial boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so sure that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring about a substantial cure. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physician's use of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a new white, bitter, antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel-capped glass jars. See the full directions on the wrapper. MEETING OF "FREDERICK DOUGLAS FORUM."

The first open meeting of the "Frederick Douglas Forum," a society organized by the most progressive and intelligent of the colored people of our city, was held on Monday night at the First Colored Baptist Church.

There will be a series of addresses delivered by prominent and able white men, on subjects looking to the improvement and uplift of the colored race, at different times.

The meeting on Monday night was largely attended and was addressed by Rev. Dr. M. B. Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who took as his theme "The Race Problem in the Southern States."

It was a fine address, filled with wholesome truths, in which he endorsed the course of President Booker T. Washington and other great men of the colored race.

The next address will be delivered by Judge W. E. Settle, of the Court of Appeals, and will be held at St. John's M. E. Church, on Clinton street, April 22. His theme will be announced later.

This is a good move and needs to be encouraged by all good citizens.

NEW DEPARTURE.

Mr. Gus Lafontaine (better known as "Frenchy"), the well known caterer has made a new departure in connection with his first-class restaurant. He has installed a beautiful soda fountain, where all the soft drinks can be obtained, and in addition will have for sale chocolates, candies, nuts, foreign and domestic fruits of all kinds.

Thus all the delicacies of the seasons can be procured without going out of his restaurant. His new quarters, 309 Broadway street, are much larger, more convenient and better fitted for his business than his former place. He has improved it and has the best of facilities for quick service.

"Frenchy" makes a specialty of serving wedding, receptions and families with meals. In these times of uncertainty as to domestic service this is a very convenient and comfortable way of meeting emergencies. He also has several private dining rooms for ladies.

He invites the public generally to give him a call.

INDIGESTION'S RECORD

"The best remedy I can prescribe for your indigestion, madam is Green's August Flower. I know of several other physicians who prescribe it regularly."

Indigestion is making an awful record as a cause of sudden deaths. It is beating heart-failure in its ghastly harvest.

You read in the papers daily of apparently healthy and even robust men being suddenly attacked with acute indigestion after enjoying a hearty meal, and of their dying in many cases before a physician could be called in.

This should be a warning to you who suffer with regular or periodical attacks of indigestion. If these unfortunate victims of acute indigestion had taken a small dose of Green's August Flower before or after their meals they would not have fallen a prey to such sudden seizures.

August Flower prevents indigestion by creating good digestion. It also regulates the liver, purifies the blood and tones up the entire system in a natural way.

Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.
